

The Power of Nurses

[VIDEO TRANSCRIPT – February 2021]

[Music]

You are strong. You are able. You witness things we couldn't bear to see, and you feel the weight of life more than anyone. You bring us into the world and carry us through life, fighting disease, rising above challenges, sacrificing to keep us all safe. You never fold under pressure and never stop trying to bring us back to health. You care without judgement, balancing the art and science of nursing and treat everyone with great respect, throwing yourself into chaos wherever the job takes you, navigating change from every direction. You give, and give, and give, and never ask for much in return. Twenty-nine million of you strong, pursuing your calling, standing practice-ready on the frontline of care.

Wolters Kluwer is proud to celebrate the world's greatest heroes.

The power to lead.

The power to teach.

The power to learn

The power to heal.

The power of nurses.
